

One World, One Family. One Heart.

CARIBBEAN FAMILY UNIVERSITY AT SEA

Invest in Family and Celebrate

In these tough economic times, we find ourselves turning to the most important people in our lives, our family, to get our bearings and find our strength.

Ring in the New Year 2010 with those closest to you during The Caribbean Family University at Sea.

This is the first YPO-WPO event in which members are invited to bring their extended family, ages 5 and above, and grandparents are welcome to participate. The program is designed to Enrich Families, Engage Global Leaders, and Inspire Citizenship.

During the University, the pace of life will slow down allowing families the time to reconnect and reflect, as well as look outward to making a difference in our world.

A Living Classroom —

Retreat to the peaceful seascapes of the Caribbean where every port along our journey will offer a unique experiential learning opportunity!

Local YPO-WPO members will meet us and their children will serve as Young Ambassadors, helping our families to get a true sense of the history, culture and everyday life of their countries.

Cartagena: Explore the Palace of the Inquisition in the lovely Plaza Bolivar in the Old Walled City and Castillo de San Felipe de Barajas with the largest of a series of fortresses built to protect the city from pirates!

Colon: Dock on the Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal where you will get a glimpse of the Gatun Locks and Railways, soak up the incredible military architecture and history of the area, and embark on an action-packed rainforest adventure!

Grand Cayman: Known for some of the best diving and snorkeling in the world, enjoy an underwater safari led by renowned dive masters Ridlon and Carin Kiphart. We'll have our own private stretch of beach to swim with stingrays, reef and deep-sea fish.

A curriculum as unique as each family —

A diverse and talented group of international faculty will help bring families closer together, opening the lines of communication between the generations, strengthening bonds and setting goals for the future.

Families will look outward to the world community, learning the importance in becoming involved in economic and social causes.

Other things may change us, but we start and end with family

Dear YPO-WPO Friends,

Do you love sitting down to a robust glass of Chianti, or the feel of a great Italian shoe hugging your foot? Is Puccini, or perhaps Andrea Bocelli on your iPod playlist? Does the site of a Michelangelo or a Botticelli melt your heart, or the genius of DaVinci stimulate your imagination?

If so, you are probably a lover of all things Italian and among a select group of members we would like to extend an opportunity for priority registration for the Florence Presidents' University, 19-24 May 2012 www.mypopo.org/Florence2012.

Led by an exceptional group of YPO members from Italy, as well as those who have a great love and knowledge of this magnificent city, the Florence University will be a celebration of the human spirit and an opportunity for self-discovery.

Open your Mind and Heart to Great New Endeavors

Florence is a city of innovations. Its great history, in any field, is one of daring change and bold creativity. Art, business, science, warfare, and a host of other human endeavors can trace their modern origins here. Like the lines of a well-composed Renaissance painting, the vanishing point of our modern perspective on life is Florence.

Find Inspiration

Inspire your own personal discovery as you walk in the footsteps of the great Florentines. Explore the historic heart of the city beginning at the Piazza del Duomo, or travel to the other side of the Arno River and see the Oltrarno, known for its antique shops and artisan ateliers. Tour vineyards with master winemakers, become an artisan in a restoration workshop, uncover the vast treasures of the Uffizi galleries, sketch the city's vistas with a local painter.

Experience the Magic of the Italian Bella Vita

Florence University promises pure magic as you experience wonderful evening socials at the most exclusive venues. Each evening you can expect social and musical programs that reflect the spirit of the Renaissance and the Florentine's zest for life.

Go beyond Florence

Plan a day away to explore Italy in small groups. Take a train to your choice of Rome, Milano or Venice, or visit one of the quaint historic towns of Siena or Chianti in the Tuscany region.

R.S.V.P. Today

Due to the overwhelming response of the Florence Presidents' University, in order to move from an interested status to a confirmed status, please fill out the registration form by 29 November 2010. The registration process will be managed on a first-come, first-serve basis.

We look forward to welcoming you to Florence as together we embark on a journey of self-discovery, genius and Italian Dolce Vita!

Regards,

Francesco Barontini (YPO Tuscany) Florence Presidents' University Chair

Simonetta Brandolini d'Adda (WPO Europe At Large) Honorary Chairman/Social Chair

Why India? Why now?

Something incredible happened when no one was quite looking. Quietly, India positioned itself as a vital player in the way the world does business. And now, seemingly suddenly, all eyes are on India.

Business reasons alone would be enough to warrant a trip. But the world's second-fastest growing economy is also located in one of the world's most ancient and mystifying cultures, home to stunning architecture and fascinating traditions. With its wildly diverse population and astonishing array of both spectacular and simple elegance, India is nearly impossible to define and impossible to resist.

India's time is now.
And there's no better way to explore it than India University 2008.

Your journey begins...

...with a Yatra, a Sanskrit word for spiritual or sacred journey. These intimate, three-day excursions take place in some of India's most stunning locations. You choose your destination, allowing you to shape your experience according to which aspects of India interest you most.

(Read more about the Yatras on the reverse.)

Mid-week, all of the Yatras will converge in Mumbai (formerly Bombay). Eminent Indian and international speakers will lead the three-day education program, covering business, social, culture and spiritual interests.

Of course, beyond this intense classroom education program you will get a chance to actually see and savor this bustling, dynamic city through the eyes of its residents in experiential learning activities, and party the night away at our extravagant Bollywood-style socials.
