Join Us to Unpack the Miracles and Paradox of South Africa

We have come so far. In just 16 short years, with the help of some extraordinary leaders such as Nelson Mandela and FW de Klerk, our people have transformed South Africa from a divided land of apartheid to hosting the world in June 2010 for the FIFA Soccer World Cup.

Get ready for a challenging, no-holds-barred adventure.

The South Africa Presidents' University will take you from the wilds of the African bush where nature prevails and animal kingdoms carry out the delicate cycle of life, to the sophisticated, dramatic splendor of our Cape, where you will experience your own renewal.

You will see OUR South Africa — its good and its bad, its magnificent beauty and sometimes, unsightly past.

Guided by an inspirational and innovative roster of education resources, we'll learn and debate how the dynamics in South Africa have implications around the globe and find inspiration in our own lives. We'll meet with ordinary men and women, South Africans of different racial, religious and ethnic backgrounds, who have done extraordinary things, transforming their lives, their businesses, and their country.

Discover where you came from and how you thrive

AFRICAN FLASHBACK

It has been 10 years since YPO-WPO has held a University in South Africa. The 2000 Cape Town University, chaired by Marco Van Embden (WPO Cape Town), was one of the highest rated Universities in the history of the Organization. Take a look back during YPO's 60th Anniversary.

EDUCATION

Ubuntu, a Xhosa (Zulu) word which means, "I am who I am through you." It is a phrase, which was used by Nelson Mandela as he ushered in a new era for South Africa. It represents the interconnectedness of all mankind. It is the connection between peers that is the very essence of YPO and WPO and a key element of our South Africa Presidents' University Education Program.
